

Florida Divorce Monthly Expense Worksheet

Organize your own monthly income and expenses before you call — free from www.NotaryNearMeNow.com

What this is

A free worksheet you fill out on your own to organize your monthly income and expenses before you call. The categories follow the income, deduction, and expense headings printed on the Florida Supreme Court Approved Family Law Financial Affidavit forms: Form 12.902(b) (Short Form, 10/21) and Form 12.902(c) (Long Form, 06/25), as posted on flcourts.gov. That way your own numbers are grouped the same way those forms group them.

What this is not

- This is not a court form, and it is not filed with the court.
- It does not tell you which court form applies to you, what amounts to put on any court form, or how to fill one out.
- It is not legal, tax, or financial advice. Every number is yours to decide.
- The official forms and their instructions are free at www.flcourts.gov (Family Law Forms).

How to use it

1. Gather recent pay stubs, bills, and bank and credit card statements.
2. Write monthly amounts. For anything not paid monthly, use the math table below.
3. Check “Estimate” next to any amount that is a guess rather than what you actually pay now.
4. Leave blank anything that does not apply to you.
5. Add up each group and copy the totals to the Summary page.
6. Prefer to type? Download the fillable Excel version, which adds everything up for you, at www.NotaryNearMeNow.com/florida-uncontested-divorce-guide.
7. Privacy: write only the last 4 digits of any account number, and keep this worksheet private.

Monthly amount math (arithmetic only)

If paid or due...	Monthly amount =

Weekly	weekly amount × 52 ÷ 12
Every two weeks	amount × 26 ÷ 12
Twice a month	amount × 2

Nonlawyer disclosure

Nonlawyer disclosure. Jonathan Rexford is a nonlawyer. He is not an attorney, he is not a paralegal as defined by Rule 10-2.1(h) of the Rules Regulating The Florida Bar, and he cannot call himself a paralegal. He may not give legal advice, cannot tell you what your rights or remedies are, cannot tell you how to testify in court, and cannot represent you in court. He may only type the factual information you provide to him in writing into the blanks on a form. Except for typing, he may not tell you what to put in the form and may not complete the form for you. However, if the form is one approved by the Supreme Court of Florida, he may ask you factual questions to fill in the blanks on the form and may also tell you how to file the form. Before he assists you in completing any form, he will give you a written disclosure containing these terms, signed by both of you, for you to keep. As Rule 10-2.2(c) of the Rules Regulating The Florida Bar requires, as amended by the Supreme Court of Florida in Case No. SC2026-1262 (effective October 1, 2026), any form he helps complete will state "This form was completed with the assistance of:" followed by his name, title, business name, address, telephone number, and email address. This worksheet is general educational information only; filling it out is not form assistance and does not create an attorney-client relationship.
