Florida Uncontested Divorce: What to Expect

Ready for a fresh start? When you and your spouse agree, a Florida divorce can be calm, simple and affordable.

There is hope, and a simpler path

Many Florida couples who agree on the big things finish their divorce without a courtroom battle. Florida has official, court-approved family law forms for exactly this, and we help you get them completed neatly and on time.

Two common paths

A Simplified Dissolution of Marriage is for couples who agree on everything and have no minor or dependent children together and none on the way. A regular uncontested divorce uses the Florida Supreme Court Approved Family Law Forms and can include children, a parenting plan and a settlement agreement you have both agreed to.

A few general facts

At least one spouse must have lived in Florida for 6 months before filing. Florida generally waits at least 20 days after filing before a final judgment can be entered. The court clerk charges a filing fee, so check the current amount with your county clerk.

How we help

You tell us your facts, we complete your court-approved forms clearly and correctly typed, and we can notarize what needs notarizing. Most clients handle everything by phone, text and email.
